Yy Numb. 1174.

The Daily Courant.

Friday, January 18. 1706.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated January 21.

Alicant, December 17.

GEneral Baset having caus'd Gandia, Oliva, Alzira, Rabira, Valencia, and other Places, to declare for King Charles III, came hither last Night. He had a long Conference with our Magistrates: But 'tis not known yet what Resolution they have taken. We make a Shew of preparing to defend our Town; but most of us are for the House of Austria, and besides are so ill provided for defending our selves, that upon the coming of the Allies hither with any Force either by Sea or Land, we shall surrender to them.

The Paris Letter of the 15th of January says, that the Garrison of Roses having made a Sally on a Body of English Troops that advanc'd near that Place, kill'd about 400 of them, and put the rest to Flight. And the Paris Letter of the 19th says, that on the Approach of the Count de las Torres to Valencia, the Burghers of that City fell upon the English, put 300 of them to the Sword, and drove out the rest. The Paris Gazette of the 16th of January makes no Mention of the first Action, which it could not have miss'd had there been any Ground for it: And for the other Action it does not agree with that Gazette, which (making no Mention of any English Troops) says Valencia was taken by the Rebels of Denia and the revolted Catalan Regiment of Nabot.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated January 19.

The Advices from the Danube of the 11th of this Month import, that General Kriechbaum with a Body of about 1500 Imperialists, had defeated near Braunau a Body of above 5000 Rebels; great part of which were put to the Sword, and the rest to flight. Colonel Arnau is march'd into the upper Palatinate, to make Head against the Malecontents, whose number in that part of the Country is not great. The Troops of Wirtemberg, led by the Duke of Wirtemberg, are arriv'd on the Frontier of Bavaria. Part of the Militia of Tyrol is likewise on the March to enter that Electorate; so that the Malecontents seeing the Storm ready to break upon them, have offer'd by Deputies to the Diet of the Empire, to lay down their Arms, to deliver up all they are possess'd of, and to submit themselves to his Imperial Majesty, provided he will redress their Grievances. In the mean time several Persons have been taken into Custody, being accus'd of having a Hand in the Conspiracy that has been detected at Munich.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated January 22.

Letters from the Danube of the 14th Instant advise, that Councellor Lier (who was siez'd some Months ago coming from the Netherlands with a Commission from the Elector of Bavaria,) has discover'd several things of Importance, which have unfolded the Intrigue of the Insurrection of the Bavarian Peasants. It seems their Elector had promis'd that he would come to their Assistance with Succours of Men and Money, by the Way of Switzerland; but they now see they are to hope for no Succour. However, they have drawn together in great number near Viltshoffen, since their Defeat mention'd in the former Letters from the Danube. General Kriechbaum, who is encamp'd not far from them, has been reinforc'd by 2 Palatine Regiments and some other Troops, and is preparing to attack them agen. Colonel Arnau is attacking Cham in the upper Palatinate, and we expect every Hour to hear it has surrendred to him. One Muller, who commands the Rebels in that Place, fearing to be taken, and to incur the same Condemnation as Kraus the Butcher of Kelheim, has written beforehand to a Canon of Ratisbon, that 'twas against his Will he was put into that Post, but that he durst not refuse it, for fear of being knock'd on the Head by the Peasants. Colonel Wendt is to act joyntly with Colonel Arnau in the upper Palatinate, to make all quiet in that Country. General Kriechbaum is to act about Viltshoffen and Braunau, and the Duke of Wirtemberg with his Troops about Straubingen. The Regiments of Wolfenbuttel and Mecklenbourg are expected shortly in Bavaria, as are also the Prussian and other Troops, to proceed afterwards to Italy.

They write from Frankfort the 16th of this Month, that Advice was come thither that Cham in the upper Palatinate had surrendred to Colonel Arnau, and that there are at present 18000 Men regular Troops in Bavaria to act against the Rebels. The 14th the Princess of Baden was brought to bed of a Second Son, at Rastad.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Jan. 19.

The Treaty concluded between the King of Sweden and King Stanislaus the 28th of November last, consists of 30 Articles; the Substance of which is, I. There shall be perpetual Peace and sincere Friendship between the 2 Kings, their Successors and Kingdoms. II. The Treaty of Oliva is confirm'd in all Points, except in what is otherwise agreed, or more amply explain'd, or shall be so hereafter for the common Good. III. A general Amnesty is agreed, and 3 Months allow'd to the adverse Party to be admitted into it. IV. No Truce, Peace, or other Agreement shall be made with King Augustus, but by common Consent, and on Condition that he resign the Crown of Poland, and give Satisfaction to the King of Sweden and the Republick of Poland for all the Damage occasion'd by this War. The same Article declares King Augustus's Declaration of War against the King of Sweden to be null and groundless; as also the Decrees, Statutes and other Acts issued in his Name during this War. V. The Alliances that are prejudicial to Sweden are annull'd, and the Republick of Poland shall not suffer their Kings to make such Alliances. VI. The War shall be prosecuted against the Czar joyntly, till he has made Satisfaction for the Injuries and Damage done by him; and no Peace, Truce, or other Treaty shall be made with him, but by common Consent. VII. The Swedes shall not lay by their Arms, before the King and Republick of Poland be setled in Peace. VIII. The Places the Swedes may retake from the Czar, shall be restor'd to Poland, upon Reimbursement of the Expence. IX. But the Swedes shall keep Garrisons during this War, in the Places they possess or shall possess themselves of. X. The King of Sweden may lead his Army throughout Prussia and other Provinces of the Republick, and raise Recruits there, as long as shall be neceſſary. XI. He ſhall be allow'd Veſſels for tranſporting his Troops, and the Ports ſhall be open to him. XII. If either Kingdom enter into War with its Neighbours, no Aſſiſtance ſhall be given to its Enemies. XIII. The King and Republick of Poland oblige themſelves to reſtrain the Enterprizes of ſuch Poles, as ſhall hereafter dare to take Arms againſt Sweden. The XIV. XV. and XVI. Articles relate to the Priſoners and Deſerters on both Sides. XVII. The Houſe of Sapieha ſhall be reſtor'd to their former Dignities, Honours, Offices, Eſtates, &c. XVIII. The King and Republick of Poland ratify and declare, that they will maintain the Quiet and Security the Proteſtants have enjoy'd in Poland and Lithuania, and that have been confirm'd by Compacts, Pacta Conventa, &c. ſo that the Religion they profeſs may be no Detriment to them as long as they behave themſelves Peaceably: They ſhall not be hindred from meeting in accuſtom'd Places granted them for the Exerciſe of their Religion, nor to educate their Children in the Religion of their Parents, &c. This Article does alſo confirm all the Rights and Prerogatives the Towns of Pruſſia have enjoy'd in Matters Spiritual and Temporal before and ſince the Peace of Oliva, &c. The XIX. and ſucceeding Articles to the XXV. inclusive, contain Regulations of Commerce and Navigation between the 2 Nations, particularly as to Riga. XXVI. All bad Money is forbidden, ſuch as the Penny pieces of Walachia, &c. And when the Republick coyns new Money, Care ſhall be taken that it anſwer the Value of that of Sweden and its Provinces. XXVII. The Republick ſhall oblige its Kings to obſerve this Treaty, and in Caſe of a Rupture ſhall be anſwerable for the Damages. XXVIII. If any Kingdoms, Republicks, or States, are willing to enter into this Alliance, they ſhall be admitted by common Conſent. XXIX. The Potentates that hold themſelves concern'd in the Welfare of the Kingdoms of Sweden and Poland, ſhall be deſir'd to be Guarantees. XXX The Treaty ſhall be ratified and exchang'd on both ſides, within a Week after 'tis ſign'd, &c.

The true Liquor of Azam for the Stone, Gravel, and Stoppage of Urine, approved of not only by a great Number of Perſons theſe ſeveral Years paſt, but likewiſe by ſome Phyſicians of the Colledge of London, is only to be ſold at John's Coffee-houſe in Swithin's Ally near the Royal Exchange, at 2 s. 6d. per Bottle, with Directions, &c.

Horatio Fornello, Gent. no Phyſician, could hardly be perſwaded to publiſh his Diſſolution Salt, as being laborious to be made; and ſince it has been (which you know is about 9 Months ago) People have and do flock to buy it, as alſo ſend for it out of Foreign Countries, as New-England, &c. giving it its due Praiſe. It is a Remedy for the Stone and Gravel, which it totally roots out, by diſſolving it in the Kidneys and Bladder, and carrys it away inſenſibly by Urine, yet viſible if made in a Vial and ſuffered to ſettle, being undeniable that the Stone is diſſolved. He was cured by it himſelf, as alſo divers Gentlemen in London ſince it has been publiſh'd, and others have found a great benefit by it, which are not willing their Names ſhould be expos'd, by obſerving the Rule, next God's Bleſſing none ſhall have need to be cut for this Diſtemper. Whoever will prevent the ſetling of Gravel, take a Doſe in 8 or 14 days and continue ſo, that body ſhall never ſmart for it. It keeps good many years. For a larger account and directions, you are referr'd to the Paper given with it, being to be had of Mr. Thomas Dowſe, Perfumer, at the ſign of the Plough in Grace-Church-ſtreet, London, and no where elſe in all England, Price 4 s. the half Ounce, which is 8 Doſes.

The Royal Golden Tincture ſo highly approved and commended in all Diſeaſes of the Stomach and Lungs, it overcomes the moſt inveterate Cough, and perfectly cures it in a ſhort time, as hath been happily experienced by many who have made uſe of it, after the Tryal of the greateſt Specifick, It is the only Medicine in the World for curing Coughs of all ſorts, Colds, Rheums, Shortneſs of Breath, Hourſneſs, Priſick and Conſumptive Coughs, Wind-cholick, Gripes, Pleuritick-pains, and will commend it ſelf by all thoſe that make uſe of it. It is a very rich Cordial, and of a pleaſant Taſte; prepared by a very skilful Hand, who will appear at the Places of Sale, or any other Place, if deſir'd, to give Satisfaction to all that make uſe of it. It may be carried all over the World, and keeps its Goodneſs and Virtue many Years. Price 1 s. the Bottle, and 5 s. the Bottle. It is to be had at Mr. Hows, the Blue Perriwig at the End of Bride-lane in Fleet-ſtreet, near Fleet-bridge, Mr. Walthall's, a Brandy-ſhop over againſt Old Man's Coffee-houſe at Chairing-Croſs, Mr. Mandivils, a Grocer in Ratcliff-high-way, againſt old Gravel-lane.
